

Peer Worker

Level 3

18 Months Total Programme Length

Apprenticeship Overview

Peer workers leverage their personal experiences to offer support and guidance to individuals undergoing significant life changes or challenges. The peer worker role is grounded in the principle of mutual understanding and the shared experiences which foster connections and trust with those they are supporting. By sharing their own journey, they create a space for open communication, helping individuals to access various forms of support.

The peer worker apprenticeship offers a blend of experience-based learning and formal training, tailored specifically for individuals with lived experience in areas such as mental health, addiction, or social adversity. This programme is designed to enhance the existing skills of peer workers by providing structured learning opportunities which complement their real-world expertise.
