

Maisie O'Byrne

THE OLIVER MCGOWAN
MANDATORY TRAINING ON LEARNING DISABILITY AND AUTISM

Background: Maisie's dedication to healthcare began in 2014 when she joined the NHS as a maternity care assistant, marking the start of a decade-long journey within the NHS. Her unwavering commitment to patient care led her to qualify as a midwife in 2018. Over the years, she has demonstrated a profound ability to connect with patients and colleagues alike, showcasing her exceptional skills and empathy.

Experience: In 2023, Maisie transitioned into the education sector, bringing with her six years of experience training students in practice. Her move into education was driven by a deep-seated passion for teaching and a desire to shape the next generation of healthcare professionals.

Passion: Maisie's journey from healthcare assistant to midwife, and now educator, exemplifies her unbridled passion for healthcare and education. She is proud to be part of a transformative movement within the NHS, working determinedly to ensure that every individual, regardless of their abilities, is understood and valued.
